Course Description

This course provides students with a background in modern Chinese history, setting the stage for a grounded understanding of the myriad social issues that China faces today. Students begin their study in this course through an overview of the country's cultural, social, and political background. Using lectures, readings, and discussion this course then surveys modern social issues and vulnerable populations in China such as education, public health, environment, civil society, economic development, gender, ethnic minorities, human rights, and popular culture. Opportunities are also provided for students to engage local experts in discussion through guest lecturers and field trips. Throughout the course, students analyze historical and current systems in modern China and develop a nuanced understanding of the multiple perspectives found throughout the country. In addition, program travels in China take students to communities which are engaged in addressing these issues, providing experiential opportunities for learning and growth.

Course Materials

- Reader: Dragons Course Reader (includes all articles listed in the Required Reading section of the syllabus)
- Additional readings assigned by faculty over the course of the program

Method of Instruction

This course is delivered through a series of lectures, readings, class discussions, reflections, presentations, research and non-classroom structured activities.

Outcomes

Student Learning Outcomes

By the completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Understand multiple historical, cultural, social, ecological, and political perspectives of the region.
- Analyze historical and current systems that relate to modern social issues.
- Connect, relate, and integrate their analysis of divergent viewpoints to their own personal experience and sense of self.
- Explain and discuss issues which directly impact vulnerable populations in the host country.

Knowledge Outcomes

This course is designed to assist students to acquire and demonstrate knowledge about:

- Modern Chinese history.
- Specific social issues in modern China such as education, public health, environment, civil society, economic development, gender, ethnic minorities, human rights, and popular culture.

Skills Outcomes

This course is designed to assist students in acquiring or enhancing the following skills:

- Ability to manage and facilitate group discussions effectively.
- Critical thinking and analytical skills which can be used to engage regionally diverse viewpoints.
- Written and oral presentation skills.

Evaluation Matrix

Number	Evaluation Area	Weight	Due Date
1	Participation in all lectures, field studies, reading assignments, discussions, and other course activities	20%	Continuous
2	Co-Facilitation	10 %	TBD
3	Quizzes	10%	TBD
4	Essays	20%	TBD
5	Final Project Proposal	5%	TBD
6	Final Project	25%	TBD
7	Final Project Presentation	10%	TBD

Description of Evaluation Areas

A total of 15-22 pages of written work (depending on the form of your final project) are required for this class through a series of written assignments. Note that all work should be presented in Times New Roman font, 12pt size, and double spaced.

Number	Evaluation Area	Description/Instructions
1	Participation	Students are expected to attend all regularly scheduled classes and activities. Further, students should come prepared to participate fully and be prepared to demonstrate concepts presented in assigned reading. Students should be on time for all classes.
2	Co-Facilitation	You will be responsible for coordinating and co-facilitating at least one formal lesson.
3	Quizzes	Quizzes are meant to give a medium for critical dialog and inquiry, not for reciting information. Students will have between 3 and 5 quizzes on specific themes during the course.
4	Essays & Journal	Students are required to write 3 essays that will be posted on the Dragons' E-Bulletin. The aim is for these to be concise while also allowing space for students to present their comprehension of a reading, theme, or issue that is selected in consultation with faculty. Each essay should be 2 pages in length. In addition, students will be given shorter journal prompts throughout the course. Each journal entry should be 1-page long.
5	Final Project Proposal	Together with faculty, you should identify one theme on which to prepare a final project, to be presented to the group and to additional invitees from the host community. Your proposal should be a 1-page description of your theme and how you plan to examine and present your findings.
6	Final Project	Final Project – hard-copy product and verbal: The final project is the culmination of a student's learning on this course and is a powerful, inspiring and engaging educational experience. It summarizes learning on particular topics and is designed to demonstrate a broad, multi-disciplinary understanding of the theme(s) being presented. It is meant to be an opportunity for students to synthesize the learning they experienced during the course. The hard-copy product can take a variety of forms. Three examples are listed below. If you would like to suggest a different form, please work with faculty to determine appropriateness and parameters. 1) Final paper. The final paper should be 10-12 pages in length and must include a minimum of 10 sources that are properly cited. 2) Video documentary. This should be a minimum of 5 minutes long and fully edited. Accompanying your video should be a 5-page paper describing your process, investigation methods, and challenges/successes faced. 3) Photo essay. This should include a minimum of 15 high-quality photographs with a 150-word description of each photo, detailing how the photo relates to your final theme (approximately 9 pages of text).
7	Final Project Presentation	The presentation should be 20-30 minutes and include time for questions from the audience

Course Description

This course is focused on providing students with a basic understanding of ethnographic research methods and skills, while also giving students the opportunity to develop specialized knowledge in a topic of study. During the first half of the course, a series of thematic seminars focus on research methodologies, the importance of ethics in research, best practices in working in cross-cultural partnerships in the host country, and skills training related to designing a study proposal. Students develop an understanding of how to refine research question(s), determine appropriate research and learning methods, and address ethical issues related to their projects. During the second half of this course, students use the plan outlined in their approved study proposal to carry out an individualized and in-depth study on a subject of their choice using primary sources. With the support of an academic advisor and/or a local mentor, students select a topic which relates to the program's scope, design an approach to study this subject, and conduct an individual project. The chosen topic of independent study may involve either an academic inquiry or the learning of a traditional skill through an apprenticeship.

Course Materials

- Reader: Dragons ISP Reader (includes all articles listed in the Required Reading section of the syllabus)
- Additional readings to be determined by student, faculty advisor, and ISP mentor

Method of Instruction

This course is delivered through a series of lectures, readings, class discussions, reflections, presentations, independent research and non-classroom structured activities.

Outcomes

Student Learning Outcomes

By the completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Design a method to investigate a specific topic, including creating an individual learning plan which describes methods of research, timeline, and goals.
- Understand a variety of research methodologies and demonstrate the ability to conduct research using culturally appropriate research methods.
- Analyze and evaluate information/data gathered from primary sources or from a local mentor.
- Identify and recognize ethical issues as they relate to research, and specifically to research in the host country.

Knowledge Outcomes

This course is designed to assist students to acquire and demonstrate knowledge about:

- The process of conducting independent research.
- Their specific topic; the student will demonstrate a strong working knowledge of information related to the topics.
- The challenges and opportunities of conducting research in the host culture specifically, and in carrying-out research in cross-cultural settings generally.

Skills Outcomes

This course is designed to assist students in acquiring or enhancing the following skills:

- Competence in carrying out independent research and investigations of a topic.
- Effective oral presentation skills.
- Greater self-confidence in abilities to interact with and learn about the host culture.
- (If applicable) Confidence using local language when conducting research.

Evaluation Matrix

Number	Evaluation Area	Weight	Due Date
1	Participation in all lectures, field studies, reading assignments, discussions, and other course activities	10%	On-Going
2	Response papers, leading discussions, and other assignments	15%	On-Going
3	ISP Journal	10%	On-Going Due by TBD
4	Project Proposal	10%	TBD
5	Project Plan Outline	10%	TBD
6	Final Paper	25%	TBD
7	Oral Presentation	20%	TBD

Description of Evaluation Areas

A total of 21-26 pages of written work are required for this class through a series of written assignments. Note that all work should be presented in Times New Roman font, 12pt size, and double spaced.

Number	Evaluation Area	Description/Instructions
1	Participation	Students are expected to attend and be on time to all regularly scheduled classes and activities. Students should come prepared to participate fully and be prepared to demonstrate concepts presented in assigned reading.
2	Assignments & Homework	Completion of all assignments and homework, including response papers, and full participation in leading/facilitating discussions and other class time.
3	ISP Journal	A portion of your participation grade will be assessed based on your regular upkeep of an ISP Journal. This journal should outline the time and activities you have spent on your project, contacts, interviews, and other observations. You should log all hours spent on your project (see sample log below) and include activities such working with a local mentor, participant observations, note transcription, interviews, information analysis, reading supplementary materials, writing, etc.). Your final ISP Journal should be a minimum of 4 pages in length.
4	Project Proposal	After meeting with the faculty member to discuss potential ISP topics, you should then submit a Research Project Proposal. See instructions in the Appendix. The Project Proposal should be at least 1 page in length and should also include the supplemental Independent Study Travel Proposal (if applicable).
5	Project Plan Outline	Following feedback from the faculty member on your Project and Independent Travel Proposal, you should write a Project Plan Outline. See Instructions in the Appendix. The Project Outline should be at least 4 pages in length and should include the supplemental Independent Study Travel Plan (if applicable).
6	Final Paper	The final paper should be 12-17 pages in length and must include a minimum of 10 sources that are properly cited. In-person interviews and other oral sources can be used as additional references. Your research sources, bibliography and citations will factor into your final grade. Please use proper APA or MLA formatting. Your paper will be evaluated based on the following criteria: description of topic and research goals, focus of research project/question, description of why this topic is relevant to your program, outline of the parameters of your study (the scope and any limitations), methodology used to investigate topic (including use of primary sources available in the host country), degree of accuracy, analysis of subject matter, grammar, use of intercultural communication skills and references.
7	Oral Presentation	Depending upon the nature of ISP, presentations should be a minimum of 30 minutes. Presentations should introduce (and will be assessed on delivery of) your ISP topic and research question, objectives, methods used/strategy, overall experience, and learning outcomes. Presentations should model experiential methods, fully engaging your audience and be organized.

Accommodations for Disabilities

Students with disabilities should contact Dragons for information and support. Please contact info@wheretherebedragons.com with any requests for accommodation or to discuss additional learning needs you may have.

Statement of Inclusivity

In keeping with Naropa's mission, the instructor and class members in this course strive to support an inclusive learning community, respecting those of all backgrounds and beliefs. As a community, we aim to be respectful to all people regardless of race, ethnicity, religion, age, veteran status, ability, immigration or economic status, gender or sexual orientation.

Gender Pronoun

This course affirms people of all gender expressions and gender identities. Please let your instructor know the appropriate gender pronoun to use for you. Also, if you would like to be called a name other than what is on the class roster, please let your instructor know. If you have any questions or concerns, do not hesitate to contact your instructor.

Please refer to the Where There Be Dragons College Study Abroad Academic Policies for additional policies on related to academic integrity, ethics, diversity/disability accommodations, and the academic appeals process.

ISP APPENDIX: Additional Resources/Instructions

Types of ISP Topics

As you begin to consider an ISP topic, it may be helpful to consider topics as they might fall into two different categories.

Analytical ISP: Some students choose to complete an analytical ISP on a particular topic that relates to the host country/culture. This type of ISP may focus more on an investigation of a social topic, current-event, or traditional or cultural practice. An analytical ISP tends to focus research on collecting information from observations, interviews, or academic/media resources.

Practical ISP: Many students choose to investigate an ISP in which they can work with a local mentor on a practical topic which may be more hands-on or creative. A Practical ISP should be directly related to the host country/culture and generally involves working with a local expert in order to gain practical understanding and skills related to an ISP. Students who choose to do a Practical ISP may create a final product (such as a work of art or music) and present this during their oral presentation. (Oral Presentations will likely require the student to carry out some research in order to be able to talk knowledgeably about context). That being said, these students also required to complete other written assignments as described in the syllabus.

Choosing a Topic

As you are in the process of selecting an ISP topic, go through the following questions.

- Is this project one that can only be done because I am in the host country? Ideally, your answer will be yes. Your topic should be pertinent to the place and not something you could easily do at home.
- Is this a project that will help me better understand the host country/culture? Ideally, your answer will be yes.
- Will I need a great deal of online or library materials to sufficiently investigate this project? Ideally, the answer will be no as you will have limited access to the internet and library resources.
- Can I describe my topic in one sentence or less? Ideally, your answer will be yes – demonstrating that it is a focused topic.
- Given the amount of time and resources I have to spend on my ISP, can I realistically look at this topic in a meaningful way? Ideally, your answer will be yes.

Project Proposal

Use the below format to write your ISP Project Proposal.

Research Topic

Clearly state your research topic.

Research Question

What is your primary research question?

Goals of Research

What are your goals/reasons for choosing this ISP topic? What do you hope to learn from this project? Is this project connected to any other personal, academic or career interests and what are the corresponding learning objectives? Where will you step outside your comfort zone during this project? How are you going to motivate yourself and take responsibility for your learning?

Back Up

Do you have a second-choice of ISP topic that you would like to pursue?

Project Outline

Use the below format to write your ISP Project Outline.

Research Topic and Goals Statement

Based on any feedback you received, further refine your research topic, question, and goals.

Methodology

What are your proposed methods of research? In other words, how you will collect/analyze information or learn about the topic. Explain how you will approach this project? If you are doing a practical ISP, how do you plan to work with a local mentor?

Resources

What are the resources (people, places, books, articles, experiences, interviews, etc.) that you plan on using for this project? What, if any, monetary funds are needed to complete this project (note, some funds may be provided by the program and some may be considered personal expenses)? What requests do you have for support from faculty/instructors? Please also provide a list of supplementary readings will you engage with as part of this ISP.

Timeline

Create a detailed timeline of how you will carry out this project. Include dates, times, resources, interviews, research, reading, practicing or any other methods you think you may be devoting your time to during this project.

Potential Challenges

What barriers could potentially hinder you from accomplishing your ISP goals? What is your plan for overcoming those challenges?

Ethical Issues

Please include an analysis of the ethics related to your project. Please answer the following questions:

- 1) What, if any, human subjects that will be involved with your research?
- 2) What risks will your project involve to the subjects of your study? How you will work to reduce or manage potential risks to participants? What are the benefits?
- 3) Does your project involve any sensitive topics or confidential information that could put any human subjects at risk if disclosed?
- 4) Does your project involve personal from vulnerable populations?
- 5) Will human subjects participate in your project voluntarily, without any coercion or pressure to participate?
- 6) Do you plan to distribute the results of the project outside of the classroom or Dragons?

Note that faculty will review your reflections on ethics, and students may be asked to revise their proposal or the proposal may require review by Naropa University's Institutional Review Board (see Academic Policies for more information related to the IRB Review Process).

ISP Journal Example

This is what an example of how your ISP Journal can be structured. You can add additional rows to each section as needed. You may also alter the format as long as you clearly indicate the amount of time you spend on your ISP and document specific activities.

COMM 301: INTERCULTURAL COMMUNICATION

(Communications 301)

Course Information

Credit Hours: 4 credit hours, 60 contact hours

Program Location: All College Study Abroad locations

Faculty of Record: Emily Braucher, MA, MA

Email: Emily@refreshcommunication.com

Course Description

This course is designed to provide study abroad students with an in-depth understanding of essential intercultural communication theories as well as the key skills needed to apply theories in interactions with host country nationals. Throughout the course, students learn relevant concepts and terminology in order to develop skills to interpret and analyze their intercultural interactions. The first half of the course focuses on positivistic and interpretive frameworks of intercultural communication as well as self-reflexivity. The second half of the course focuses on critical intercultural communication scholarship and applications, challenging the student to question default thinking patterns and recognize nuances of human interaction. Course assignments, reflection, structured activities, and direct experience emphasize the development of further intercultural competence among students. Foundational courses in communication theory are recommended, but not required.

Course Materials

- Reader: Dragons Intercultural Communication Reader (includes all articles listed in the Required Reading section of the syllabus)
- Textbook: Martin, J. & Nakayama, T. (2012 [2017]), Intercultural communication in contexts, 7th Edition, McGraw Hill, New York, NY. ISBN-10: 0073523933 or ISBN-13: 978-007352334
- Inventory: Intercultural Conflict Styles Inventory ©
Students will take the ICS Inventory online and receive a personal Profile Report (Interpretive Guide). Instructions will be provided to students on how to take the Inventory and the cost is covered by Dragons.

Method of Instruction

This course is delivered through a series of lectures, readings, class discussions, reflections, presentations, research and non-classroom structured activities. These methods of instruction aim to deepen a student's understanding and application of intercultural communication theories.

Outcomes

Student Learning Outcomes

By the completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Evaluate their cultural assumptions and articulate how their assumptions influence interpersonal/intercultural interactions
- Analyze intercultural communication using the frame of power and privilege
- Describe the brain instinct that drives people to avoid uncertainty and difference
- Explain their own cultural background and key components of their cultural identity
- Demonstrate improved intercultural communication skills through successful interactions and observations of the host community

Knowledge Outcomes

This course is designed to assist students to acquire and demonstrate knowledge about:

- Their own cultural background/identity, group awareness, social awareness, encounters, and present view
- Nuances in the relationship between culture and communication
- The host country's culture and communication style
- A sense of their own intercultural conflict style, as well as how to best work with those with differing styles

Skills Outcomes

This course is designed to assist students in acquiring or enhancing the following skills:

- Ability to describe and analyze intercultural interactions and identify patterns of cultural assumptions using Hofstede's Dimensions of Culture
- Strong communication skills and depth of knowledge, which result in an aptitude to apply intercultural communication terminology and concepts to current events
- Research abilities which are culturally appropriate and sensitive
- Ability to write academic papers that appropriately balance subjective and critical perspectives

Evaluation Matrix

Number	Evaluation Area	Weight	Due Date
1	Participation in all lectures, field studies, reading assignments, discussions, and other course activities.	15%	Continuous
2a	“Who Am I?” Paper	10%	Sunday of week 3
2b	“Who Am I?” Discussion	5%	Class hours in week 3
3	“Participant Observation” Paper	15%	Sunday of week 4
4	“Interaction Analysis” Paper	20%	Sunday of week 5
5	“Cultural Identity Visual” Presentation	10%	Class hours in week 6
6	“Cultural Phenomenon” Final Paper	25%	Sunday of week 7

Description of Evaluation Areas

A total of 20-24 pages of written work are required for this class through a series of written assignments. Note that all work should be presented in APA style, Times New Roman font, 12pt size, and double-spaced. In addition, there are approximately 430 pages of assigned reading for this course, which students are expected to read prior to each class meeting and be prepared to discuss.

Number	Evaluation Area	Description/Instructions
1	Participation	Students are expected to attend all regularly scheduled classes and activities. Further, students should come prepared to participate fully and be prepared to demonstrate concepts presented in assigned reading. Students should be on time for all classes.
2 (a & b)	“Who am I?” Paper & Discussion	Use the series of questions¹ listed below to craft a 3-5-page essay on “Who am I?” The questions relate to your personal background, group awareness, social awareness, encounters, and present view. You do not need to explicitly answer every prompt, but rather, allow reflections on the answers to inform your essay. It is suggested to answer all the questions before you begin to write your paper. You should also prepare for a group discussion on this assignment by finding an image or object that essentializes what you have learned about yourself through the process of writing this assignment. Questions to reflect upon: I. Background Describe yourself in terms of basic demographics (e.g., age, gender, race, ethnicity, birth order, etc.). Consider: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Where were you born? • How many people are in your family? • What generation do you represent? • Are you and your siblings the first of your family to be born in your home country? • Were you foreign born (not born in the country you are currently a resident of – e.g. the U.S.)? • Where did your ancestors migrate? Within the United States? From outside the United States? From another country to the one you reside in (non-US students)? Why? • What is/was the occupation of your mother when you were a child? Your father’s occupation? • How would you describe your family’s social class? • Where do you go to school? What do you like best about your school? Like least? • Does your immediate or extended family practice ethnic or cultural customs that you or they value or with which they identify (e.g., foods, celebrations, traditions, social

		behaviors, manners, beliefs)? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What customs do you prize most? • Do your relatives speak your ethnic group language? II. Group Awareness Describe your earliest recollection of learning your gender and race or ethnicity. Consider: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • When do you recall learning your gender? How did you learn this? • When do you remember learning what your sexual orientation is and how did you learn this? • When did you find out what religion your family practiced? How did your family feel about people who had a different religion? Did you have similar feelings? • How often did your family talk about your ethnic heritage and in what context? III. Social Awareness Describe your earliest recollections of learning that people were “different.” Consider: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • When do you first remember hearing about or learning about prejudice? How do you recall feeling at that time? • When was the first time you remember learning about racism? How did you first come to understand that racism existed? What did you learn from this experience? • When did you first know people who said things that you thought were prejudiced or bigoted? • When was the first time you recall seeing someone act in a way you thought was prejudiced or racist? Describe your feelings about that situation. IV. Encounters Describe your early intercultural encounters. Consider: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • How much racial and/or ethnic diversity did you have in your hometown? • (For US-students) What is the general perception surrounding African Americans, Asians, Native Americans, Latinos/Hispanics, and people from outside of the United States in your home town? (For non-US-students) What is the general perception of immigrants or people of different ethnic backgrounds in your hometown? Did your immediate family share these views? • What is the general perception on White people in your hometown? Did your immediate family share these views? • How are gay, lesbian, transgendered, or bisexual persons perceived? When (if this is applicable) did your perceptions of any of these groups change? • What is/was your parents’ main advice to you about people from other ethnic and/or cultural groups? • How would your parents respond if, while in college, you invited a member of a different ethnic group, religion, sexual orientation, or a person with a disability home for a holiday? • How would your parents respond, if you announced plans to marry a member of a different ethnic group, religion, sexual orientation, or a person with a disability? V. Present Views Describe any significant relationship that you have with an individual outside of your own race or ethnicity. Consider: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What types of relationships have you had with individuals from different racial and/or ethnic groups? What has been most rewarding about these relationships? Least rewarding? • What has been the major source of information that has shaped your perceptions of ethnic minority group members? • Which ethnic minority group do you know least about? Finally, what can you learn about yourself through this self-reflection essay?
3	Participant Observation Paper	This assignment requires that you use participant observation and the Describe/Interpret/Evaluate (D/I/E) approach while witnessing a routine event in your homestay that is puzzling to you. Your assignment is to submit a journal summary of this experience. This assignment asks that you both observe an interaction and track your internal experience. This assignment expects that you will further develop self-reflexivity (that is, to have an ongoing conversation with your whole self about what you are experiencing as you are experiencing it). Self-reflexivity is a crucial skill to understand other cultures of varying nationalities. The assignment will help you slow down and think about your environment in a different way.

		Instructions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Observe a habit, routine or practice that is puzzling to you in your homestay. • As you do your participant observation, you will need to use the D/I/E method and the SPEAKING method. • Before writing your journal, make sure you give yourself some time to reflect on your experience. Use the following questions to reflect on your experience before you write your full 3-page (minimum) journal piece. Be sure to include reflection on the D/I/E method and SPEAKING model. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What did you observe? • How is this environment different from which you are familiar? • What symbols, if any, could you find in your field study that represents your culture? • What surprised you? • What was unexpected? • What did you learn about this culture? About yourself? • Was the D/I/E method helpful? Why or why not? • Was the SPEAKING model helpful? Why or why not?
4	Interaction Analysis	What assumptions do we bring to interpersonal interactions? What expectations do we have of other people? How do we need to adapt to become more effective communicators? This assignment helps you begin to reflect on recent intercultural interactions so that you can start to learn from the past to be more self-reflexive in the future. Describe and reflect upon an intercultural interaction you have had in the last few weeks with someone from your host culture where communication was challenging. In a 4-6 page essay, explore how communication was effected by differing values, assumptions, and priorities. Explore the emotions that came up for you (frustrated, confused, excited, etc.) and how you responded/reacted to these emotions. Check your analysis of the interaction with a local cultural liaison through an interview. Demonstrate self-reflection in your essay. In your paper, use terms and concepts presented in the course. More on the Analysis Component Were there any dimensions of culture at play? If you compared your national culture to different national culture, try to use Hofstede's website (https://geert-hofstede.com/countries.html) where you can select two countries and read about how the dimension ratings compare. If you cannot isolate cultural dimensions in the interaction, use Wallen's Interpersonal Gap framework to evolve your analysis. More on the Interview Component After you make an initial hypothesis about the interaction, interview someone from the host culture to check or challenge your understanding of what happened. Here are a few pointers for the interview: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Explain the purpose of your interview to the person you will be interviewing. • Properly plan and prepare for your interview. Review what we have already learned in this class and what you have read in your text. This will help you create your questions. • Use general, open-ended questions that do not suggest a particular answer. An example would be, "Could you tell me a little about how conflict is usually resolved between households?" • Ask questions to clarify areas you want to know more about. An example would be, "Could you tell me more about...", or "What happened then?", "Can you elaborate on that, please?" • Now, you may find your interview goes off track. If you feel comfortable with its direction then allow it to do so. Keep your goal in mind and redirect the interview if necessary.

		Make sure to include the following 3 components in your essay: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Attempt to analyze what happened during the course of the interaction. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What helped you understand what was happening? • What got in the way of understanding? • What impact did your understanding or lack of understand have on the experience? 2. Consult a cultural liaison. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What insights or new information did you gain from this interview? 3. Reflect upon what you learned about yourself in this situation. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Did you feel you reacted appropriately? • Would have done something differently if you had the chance?
5	“Cultural Identity Visual” Presentation	Prepare a visual to describe what creates your many identities and to what degree (what percentage). For example, it could be a pie chart like this: <table border="1"> <thead> <tr> <th>Identity Category</th> <th>Percentage</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>Queer (T)</td> <td>~10%</td> </tr> <tr> <td>White (A)</td> <td>~10%</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Gender Conforming Bio Female (A&T)</td> <td>~20%</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Middle Class (A)</td> <td>~15%</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Educated (A)</td> <td>~10%</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Christian (A)</td> <td>~5%</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Able Bodied (A)</td> <td>~15%</td> </tr> </tbody> </table> You will be asked to present your visual to the group. Please describe any values associated with the different components of your identities. At the end of your presentation, explore the following four questions: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. How do you present or perform your identity in daily life? (Think about social media, email, texting, how you dress, how you keep your home or your car, where you spend free time.) 2. How do you emphasize or downplay parts of your identity in different contexts? 3. Do you “have” an identity? 4. What role do other people play in the way you have defined yourself? Listening deeply to your peers is part of your grade for this discussion. Help them do deeper by asking critical questions like: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • How... • I wonder... • Have you ever examined the intersection of... You do not need to follow these prompts word-for-word, but you are encouraged to think critically and help each other look more deeply at identity.	Identity Category	Percentage	Queer (T)	~10%	White (A)	~10%	Gender Conforming Bio Female (A&T)	~20%	Middle Class (A)	~15%	Educated (A)	~10%	Christian (A)	~5%	Able Bodied (A)	~15%
Identity Category	Percentage
Queer (T)	~10%

Middle Class (A)	~15%
Educated (A)	~10%
Christian (A)	~5%

6	Cultural Phenomenon Final Paper	Identify a cultural phenomenon in the host country that has made you uncomfortable or challenged you. Your assignment is to understand this phenomenon through the eyes of the host culture, understand what informed/s your perception of it and reflect on what you can learn from the intersection of your worldview and the worldview of the host country. The guiding question for this assignment is What can you learn about the host culture and yourself by seeking to understand this phenomenon through the lenses of communication, identity, anthropology, cultural competence, power and privilege? Example cultural phenomena include: gender roles, a religious practice, media, a local approach to medicine, a communication style, proxemics, use of time, etc. The methods for gathering information should include research, participant observation, formal/informal interviews and self-reflection. Using the guidelines below, write a 10-page paper, not including Title and Reference page. Include the following components in your paper:

	Background (1 page) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • An introduction of the host community where the cultural phenomenon exists. Sources must be referenced. • Short description of the cultural phenomenon you are exploring including any symbols associated with it and/or language used to describe it. • Why did you choose this phenomenon? Include relevant emotional information. • Relevant historical perspective Theoretical Perspective (1 page) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Outline the theoretical approach you are using to understand this phenomenon. Potential lenses include: Sapir-Whorf Hypothesis, positivism, critical intercultural communication theories, Expectation Violation Theory, etc. Use the terms from the course in your paper. Support this information with the articles. • Highlight limitations, if any, of the approach Methods (1 page) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Describe your interview process. Who did you interview to deepen your understanding of this phenomenon? How was the interview conducted? • Describe the process of conducting your participant observation(s). • Highlight limitations, if any, of your methods. Research Findings (3 pages) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Detailed exploration of the cultural phenomenon, including any symbols associated with it and/or language used to describe it. Reference academic sources, interview insights, and information gathered from observations. • Relevant historical perspective. Sources must be referenced. Personal Reflection of Complete Process (3 pages) Provide a clear understanding of what you learned about yourself through this assignment and how this relates to the theme "Who am I?" woven throughout the course. Continue to apply course concepts and an academic tone in the Personal Reflection section. This should include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • How has your research challenged the way you think about this phenomenon? • Why did you think about this phenomenon the way you did at the start of the assignment? How are/were you interpreting this through the lens of your multiple identities? • Reflect on what you learned about yourself and your host culture during this process. Many times, the process is as important as the fact finding. Utilize Milton Bennett's Developmental Model of Intercultural Sensitivity. Note where you are now in his six-stage model versus where you were at the beginning of the course. • Also, try to provide more self-reflection about your experience of this assignment. What moved you the most during your experience? What would you have liked to do differently? • How can apply the experiences you have had and knowledge you have gained during this course? For the rest of the program? And at home?

Detailed Course Schedule

Note that many of Dragons courses are taught in intensive blocks, with contact hours taking place during very specified times of the program. You may notice an intense amount of work in several particular weeks but know that other coursework will be spread out during other portions of the program. There is some required reading which you will complete before the main portion of the course begins (weeks 1-2 or prior to the program start).

Grading & Attendance

Late Work Policy

Be sure to pay close attention to deadlines—there will be no make up assignments or quizzes, or late work accepted without a serious and compelling reason and instructor approval.

Grading Scale

Letter Grade	Corresponding Percentage Points	Numerical Equivalents
A	94-100	4.0
A-	90-93	3.7

Attendance and Participation

Students are expected to attend all regularly scheduled classes and come prepared to participate fully in class activities. Students are further expected to be on time for all classes. Arriving late for class or an activity is disrespectful of both the instructor and fellow students.

Overview of Attendance Policy

In courses that meet once a week, students are permitted one unexcused absence; in courses that meet twice a week students are permitted two unexcused absences; in courses that meet three or more times a week students are permitted three unexcused absences. If a student has more than the permitted number of unexcused absences his/her grade for the course will be lowered by one “mark” for each additional unexcused absence.

In other words,

- in a course that meets once a week only one unexcused absence is allowed. After two unexcused absences an A becomes an A-; after three an A becomes a B+; after four an A becomes a B, etc.
- in a course that meets twice a week, only two unexcused absences are allowed. After three unexcused absences an A becomes an A-; after four an A becomes a B+; after five an A becomes a B, etc.
- in courses that meet three or more times a week, only three unexcused absences are allowed. After four unexcused absences an A becomes an A-; after five an A becomes a B+; after six an A becomes a B, etc.

An unexcused absence is one not caused by illness or otherwise not approved by Dragons staff. An excused absence means written approval from the Dragons staff justifying the absence. Arriving late to class may also count towards an absence. The Student may not make up quizzes, exams, or other assignments which he/she misses as a result of unexcused absences. The Student may not arrange for or take quizzes or exams, or turn in other assignments, at a time or on a date other than the regularly-scheduled time and date.

The participation grade will depend on both the quality and the quantity of student's comments and questions and shall account for a portion of the total course grade.

Summary of Attendance Policy

Course Description

This course introduces students to standard Mandarin Chinese language and is designed for students with no or minimal previous background in spoken or written Mandarin. Students in this course focus on learning essential vocabulary, practicing pronunciation, and understanding simple grammatical structures. This knowledge prepares students to effectively communicate in Mandarin on a limited range of topics related to everyday situations. Students practice listening and speaking in real-life situations, learn to read and write Chinese characters, and examine how culture and language interact in China. In-class activities and course assignments aim to assist students as they develop the oral proficiency and confidence necessary to initiate simple conversations. Out-of-classroom experiences such as field trips and guided interactions with native speakers supplement formal classroom instruction and provide ample opportunities for practical engagement. In addition, language skills gained in this course support students to deepen participation in other program and academic activities such as homestays and the Independent Study Project.

1	Participation	Students are expected to be on time and attend all regularly scheduled classes and activities. Students are expected to have completed all required readings, have worked to understand class concepts, and be prepared to fully participate in class.
2	Assignments	Completion of all assignments, student-led discussions in pairs or small groups and subsequent analysis, class debates, and 5 total response and reflection papers of 2-4 pages each (varies) (three of which must be polished and posted on the group's Yak Board).
3	Leadership Activities	Full participation of student group and individual leadership roles and in all student-led expeditions and excursions (on-going throughout semester), including organizing, attendance, and participation in group planning sessions, fulfilling individual responsibilities and assignments, involvement during execution of excursion, consideration of how to work to improve group functioning, and fulfilling responsibilities associated with rotating group role.
4	Group Feedback & Self-Evaluations	Full participation in group feedback sessions (debriefs) of all student-led expeditions and excursions (3%), weekly or bi-weekly feedback sessions intended to improve group function (including individual leadership and student group roles) (3%), and in tri-semester individual feedback/check-ins with faculty and group feedback sessions (Program-Start 3%, Mid-Program 3%, Program-End 3%).
5	Final Projects	1. Completion of requisite research and presentation on a host country-specific development topic of your choice. These topics will be a narrower and more in-depth continuation of your pair or small group development discussions facilitated either on week four or week five. Presentations should be between 30-45 minutes and include varied multimedia and actively work to involve audience participation and research should include at least 12 sources (can include articles, books, documentaries, interviews, photojournalism, etc.) (7.5%). 2. In consultation with instructors, the student group will organize and facilitate both a relevant activity or discussion and a final ritual or ceremony during the transference portion of the program. Both the discussion/activity and the ritual/ceremony should be between 1-1.5 hours long, reflect the three core values of Global Citizenship, Awareness of Self, and Leadership, be relevant to the experiences had during this program, and help transfer learning back home (7.5%).

Grading & Attendance

Late Work Policy

Be sure to pay close attention to deadlines—there will be no make up assignments or quizzes, or late work accepted without a serious and compelling reason and instructor approval.

Grading Scale

Letter Grade	Corresponding Percentage Points	Numerical Equivalents
A	94-100	4.0
A-	90-93	3.7
B+	87-89	3.3
B	84-86	3.0
B-	80-83	2.7
C+	77-79	2.3
C	74-76	2.0
C-	70-73	1.7
D+	67-69	1.3
D	64-66	1.0
F	60 and below	0.0

Attendance and Participation

Students are expected to attend all regularly scheduled classes and come prepared to participate fully in class activities. Students are further expected to be on time for all classes. Arriving late for class or an activity is disrespectful of both the instructor and fellow students.

Overview of Attendance Policy

In courses that meet once a week, students are permitted one unexcused absence; in courses that meet twice a week, students are permitted two unexcused absences; in courses that meet three or more times a week, students are permitted three unexcused absences. If a student has more than the permitted number of unexcused absences his/her grade for the course will be lowered by one “mark” for each additional unexcused absence.

In other words,

- in a course that meets once a week only one unexcused absence is allowed. After two unexcused absences an A becomes an A-; after three an A becomes a B+; after four an A becomes a B, etc.
- in a course that meets twice a week, only two unexcused absences are allowed. After three unexcused absences an A becomes an A-; after four an A becomes a B+; after five an A becomes a B, etc.
- in courses that meet three or more times a week, only three unexcused absences are allowed. After four unexcused absences an A becomes an A-; after five an A becomes a B+; after six an A becomes a B, etc.

An unexcused absence is one not caused by illness or otherwise not approved by Dragons staff. An excused absence means written approval from the Dragons staff justifying the absence. Arriving late to class may also count towards an absence. The Student may not make up quizzes, exams, or other assignments which he/she misses as a result of unexcused absences. The Student may not arrange for or take quizzes or exams, or turn in other assignments, at a time or on a date other than the regularly-scheduled time and date.

The participation grade will depend on both the quality and the quantity of student's comments and questions and shall account for a portion of the total course grade.

Summary of Attendance Policy

1. Three occurrences of tardiness are equivalent to one unexcused absence; each subsequent instance of tardiness is considered an additional unexcused absence.
2. Students are expected to do the required reading before class, volunteer for presentations and participate actively in class discussions.
3. Excused absences are determined by the lead Dragons staff member; in some instances a doctor's certification may be required.
4. Deadlines must be respected, even in cases of excused absences.
5. Students are responsible for getting homework assignments they miss and submitting them in a timely manner. Assignments turned in after the due date will result in a penalty to be determined by the instructor.
6. Any assignments not submitted will result in that assignment being given a grade of 0 (zero).
7. The Attendance Policy is applied until the last day of the program.

Accommodations for Disabilities

Students with disabilities should contact Dragons for information and support. Please contact info@wheretherebedragons.com with any requests for accommodation or to discuss additional learning needs you may have.

Statement of Inclusivity

In keeping with Naropa's mission, the instructor and class members in this course strive to support an inclusive learning community, respecting those of all backgrounds and beliefs. As a community, we aim to be respectful to all people regardless of race, ethnicity, religion, age, veteran status, ability, immigration or economic status, gender or sexual orientation.

Gender Pronoun

This course affirms people of all gender expressions and gender identities. Please let your instructor know the appropriate gender pronoun to use for you. Also, if you would like to be called a name other than what is on the class roster, please let your instructor know. If you have any questions or concerns, do not hesitate to contact your instructor.

Other Academic Policies

Please refer to the Where There Be Dragons College Study Abroad Academic Policies for additional policies on related to academic integrity, ethics, diversity/disability accommodations, and the academic appeals process.
