

FOR-CREDIT COURSE REGISTRATION FORM

Overview

Where There Be Dragons is proud to work in partnership with Portland State University and Naropa University in order to offer our students an option to earn college credit. Upon successful completion of coursework, students will receive an official transcript from PSU or Naropa with letter grades (unless specified otherwise on the course syllabus). Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with all course requirements. Because these credits are offered as an option, the fee for courses is not included in the semester tuition cost. Registration deadlines and cost differ based on whether you choose to take courses with Portland State or Naropa.

For-Credit Course Offerings

All students are eligible to complete up to 16 quarter-credits (PSU) and/or 4 semester-credits (NU) during the semester program. All PSU academic courses listed are offered on any of our Gap Semesters. In addition, we also offer academic credit for Mandarin, Nepali, and Spanish language courses through Naropa on select Gap Semesters. Click here to view Course Offerings.

¹ FAQ: Why do you offer the Nepali language and not the Hindi language on the India Gap semester?

India has 22 official languages (with more than 700 dialects spoken across the country), including language such as Hindi and Nepali. Nepali is the mother tongue of the majority of residents of the Himalayan foothills in northern Bengal and Sikkim, and this is an area where our Gap semester programs often spend a significant portion of the semester. Because our Gap semester groups tend to spend more time in Nepali speaking areas than Hindi speaking areas, this is the target language we focus on and the for-credit language course we offer. India Gap semester students wishing to study the Hindi language are welcome to choose this as their Independent Study Project.
