

FOR-CREDIT COURSE REGISTRATION FORM

Overview

Where There Be Dragons works in partnership with Portland State University and Naropa University to offer students an option to earn college credit. Upon completion of coursework, students receive an official transcript from PSU or Naropa. Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with all course requirements. Because these credits are offered as an option, the fee is not included in the Dragons tuition cost. Registration deadlines and cost differ based on whether you choose to take courses with Portland State or Naropa.

For-Credit Course Offerings

We offer a range of courses for-credit, both through PSU and Naropa. Course offerings vary based on program. Click here to view Course Offerings and only indicate your registration for courses that are listed for your particular program.

What, if any, is your experience with the target language of the host country you will be traveling to?

I am requesting to enroll in the following course (note that specific language level will be determined upon arrival in the host country):

☐ Mandarin (China)

☐ Spanish (Central America)

☐ Nepali (India)¹

☐ Spanish (South America)

☐ Nepali (Nepal)

¹ FAQ: Why do you offer the Nepali language and not the Hindi language on the India Gap semester?

India has 22 official languages (with more than 700 dialects spoken across the country), including language such as Hindi and Nepali. Nepali is the mother tongue of the majority of residents of the Himalayan foothills in northern Bengal and Sikkim, and this is an area where our Gap semester programs often spend a significant portion of the semester. Because our Gap semester groups tend to spend more time in Nepali speaking areas than Hindi speaking areas, this is the target language we focus on and the for-credit language course we offer. India Gap semester students wishing to study the Hindi language are welcome to choose this as their Independent Study Project.
